Mission Statement

The mission of Horizons-Upward Bound is to prepare students with limited opportunity from the Detroit metropolitan area to enter and succeed in post-secondary education.

If I was writing a novel describing the HUB College Class of 2017, it would be titled “Great Expectations”. These students possess all of the leadership, character and technical skills to become the leaders of tomorrow. They took full advantage of what HUB offered during their four years on campus and became part of a community that offered renewable and supportive resources that will prove invaluable for years to come. Many of our seniors have already amassed some impressive awards. Mariah Hill and Akua Achampong have been awarded the Gates Millennium Scholarship and Shanur Ahmed received the Dell Scholarship. We anticipate all of our students will be admitted into a post-secondary institution, with many receiving full or partial tuition packages. Congratulations HUB Class of 2013 and please remember you are forever part of the great HUB legacy and never forget we believe in you.

Our 48th summer program will be aggressive and focus on the needs of our students. Three new programs will be introduced this year to emphasize the importance of swimming and water safety, math readiness and reading and writing proficiency.

Swimming and Water Safety Program

Public schools in the Detroit metropolitan area no longer offer swimming as part of the curriculum. Many recreation centers have been closed due to budget cuts. To prevent drowning, all parents and children should learn swimming survival skills. HUB will offer a post-academic day component during the summer phase entitled, “Swimming for Survival, Fun and Fitness”. Classes will be held in the Williams Natatorium and Kingswood Lake. This component will offer a unique opportunity to teach HUB students how to swim, learn water safety for the prevention of drowning, gain an appreciation for local waterways and provide service to the community.

Math and Science Program - This program, entitled “Math and Science Summer (MaSS)” program will serve students from high schools in the Detroit metropolitan area who are potentially first-generation college students. It will be held at YouthVille in Detroit and consist of a five-week summer component and 18 to 24 Saturdays during the academic year. Activities will include: academic classes, workshops, research projects, field trips, mentoring, academic advising, career counseling and intensive instruction in math and science and hands-on experience in laboratories.

Creative Writing & Expression Weekend Workshops

The Creative Writing and Expression Weekend Workshops are a dynamic multi-dimensional series. The Communication Arts Department has developed rigorous and relevant instructional activities including a Visiting Writers Series where accomplished writers will speak to and work with HUB students helping them as writers to find their “voice.” The workshops will create an open forum for discussion and evaluation of various written works. The climax of the summer workshops is the conversion of creative written pieces into performance pieces using a multitude of techniques including spoken word, sketches, and multi-media. Converting written works into performance pieces make written works come to life and teaches students the valuable lesson that will emphasize the 2013 Summer Theme: “It’s not about believing, it’s about doing.”

Shahnur Ahmed

Education: Shahnur attended Cass Technical High School and will be attending University of Michigan in Fall 2013.

Horizons-Upward Bound did not only give me an academic incentive, but it taught me maturity and responsibility. I spent much time under the influence of our prestigious leaders, that being the HUB staff, where I began to fathom the complexity of the disadvantage we, the students, face in the metro-Detroit area. HUB has given me passion, hope, and determination.

Advice for students: I highly recommend that current HUB students continue to develop their thirst for knowledge and success. Mahatma Gandhi once stated that “you must be the change you wish to see in the world”. You, the HUB students, must seize opportunities that will best benefit your academic and social interests. The HUB staff will continue to motivate you as you embark on a new journey toward prosperity.

Dominique Boyer

Education: Dominique attended Renaissance High School and will be attending University of South Florida in Fall 2013.

I am very excited about graduating and starting the next chapter of my life attending University of South Florida in the fall. HUB has blessed me with lifelong friendships and an educational foundation that will carry me way past undergrad school. Thanks to HUB, I was able to experience the lifestyle that comes with college, something many of my peers will have to do without.

Advice for students: To the current & future HUB students, the best advice I can give you is to enjoy each and every day because you will look up and it will all be over.

Mariah Hill

Education: Mariah attended Southeastern High School and will be attending University of Maryland in Fall 2013.

I see this program as a chance to receive a better education and an asset to high school students’ lives. The staff in the program have helped me stay committed to school and encouraged me to apply to colleges and scholarships. With the help of the College Counselor and my credentials, I was selected as a Gates Millennium Scholar, which means that I will attend college for nine years paid in full! I think HUB fills in the gaps of every unattached aspiration. Being in this program is a privilege to some and a blessing to me; I have gained lifelong lessons and self-discipline for my studies.

Advice for students: All students should take initiative and advantage of each opportunity set before them. You should form connections with visiting colleges for potential acceptances and financial assistance. After high school, you need to stay connected with the HUB family; nothing is more important than giving back to the program. Now that HUB has handed us the “keys” to success, it’s our turn to start up the college car and drive to our dreams and goals.

HEADHUNTER FOR A CAUSE

Cranbrook Kingswood junior Alec Chapman founded Headhunter for a Cause in August 2012, in response to his father’s dismay at having a hard time finding entry level workers for his company. He began by posting job openings on Craig’s List, set up a few interviews and Headhunter for a Cause was born. Companies who hire employees are required to donate 50 hours of the employee’s salary to one of the established, well-known, non-faith-based organizations that are listed on the company’s website. HUB is proud to be at the top of the list, which includes Drugfree.org, Children Find of America, The Breast Cancer Research Foundation, American Red Cross and the National Military Family Association. To date, 14 employees have been placed and $8,300 has been donated.

Alec and his company have been featured on Fox-2 News, My TV 20 Detroit and articles have appeared in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Eagle, Birmingham Observer & Eccentric and Detroit Jewish News. He is in the process of expanding the company to create a national presence and has six volunteers that screen potential applicants. He plans to pursue a business degree upon graduation from Cranbrook in 2014. For more information about this creative way to support Horizons-Upward Bound, please visit www.headhunterforacause.com.
The HUB Program personifies the meaning of young students being given “just a chance”. As we celebrate the many accomplishments of the Class of 2013, we celebrate too, the conviction that individuals do make a difference in a shared future of promise and hope. We congratulate our recent graduates and all the individuals who helped make their journey possible. We salute them as they begin the next step of their academic career.

Motor City Doll Club Benefit Luncheon

On March 23, 2013, the Motor City Doll Club (MCDC) held a luncheon fundraiser at Pi Banquet Hall in Southfield on behalf of HUB. Each attendee received Ellowyne or Lizette, designed by world-renowned Robert Tonner, who gave a special presentation on the design process, the doll characters’ story lines and his collection that was selected for a special exhibition at FAO Schwartz in New York City.

We are grateful to HUB advisory board member Bea Banks and MCDC members Patricia Murphy, Nel Dent and Terry Crawford for their leadership and planning this event.

Clear Out and Clean Up for HUB!

Style Trader™ evaluated items donated by supporters at a fundraiser hosted by the Livonia store on Sunday, April 28, 2013 and gave the money to HUB that normally would have been paid to the donor. The CK HUB Tutor Club collected items in bins located at Cranbrook and Kingswood from staff, students, and their families. Donations were turned in and HUB received the cash. Donors also brought items directly to the store. Thanks to the generosity of many, we received $1,000 from Style Trader™.

The store features name brand clothing and accessories for women, teens, kids, and men. At Style Trader™ you’re part of a Trade Community that believes fashion shouldn’t cost a fortune. Find new to you fashions at great prices; and get Trade Credit or Cash for the stuff you no longer wear! If your closet is full but you’ve got nothing to wear, trade in and trade up at Style Trader™. Keep HUB in mind for the same event next year when you are cleaning your closets of unwanted clothes, shoes and accessories.

Leaders Who Care

The inaugural Leaders Who Care event, sponsored by The Detroit College Promise and Horizons-Upward Bound was held on Saturday, May 4, 2013, at Lerchen Hall. The mission was to motivate students to make education a priority. More than 50 leaders from the Detroit metropolitan area were on hand to give advice and share their stories with HUB students and other youth from the community. Proceeds will be used to provide scholarships to college-bound high schoolers. Many thanks to HUB advisory board member Michael Hermanoff and Hermanoff Public Relations for their leadership in spearheading this endeavor.
