“If I can read, I will succeed.”
The educational reputation of a school is often determined by not only what the school does for the individual but how it meets its obligations to the pluralistic society outside its gates. In 1965 Cranbrook decided to venture into unexplored territory and designed a supplemental education program modeled after A Better Chance, a pre-college outreach program for disadvantaged young men. Currently, in its 49th year, Horizons-Upward Bound (HUB) continues to work on the premise that low-income, first-generation college students can successfully compete with students from higher-income families if provided with the same preparation and opportunities.

Erin Littleton, H’14, proudly proclaims, “HUB has taught me a number of lessons, which will stay with me for the rest of my life.” One of the most important lessons HUB teaches is the importance of reading, the most critical skill on which all of our successes are built. Our main strategy for preparing our students to become successful citizens is by inspiring them to read above their grade level. HUB’s reading initiative consists of mandatory reading classes, one-on-one tutoring, team reading, a battle of the books competition, Toastmasters and reinforced reading offered by the MISTER (Male Issues Seen Through Exciting Reading) and SISTER (Strongly Impacting Sisters Through Exciting Readings) discussion groups. We have already seen improvement in ACT reading scores, self-confidence, speaking, comprehension and class participation. Our students attend schools whose average composite ACT scores are in the 11-13 range. The average composite score for the HUB Class of 2014 was a 21, far exceeding the average in their local schools.

Our track record speaks for itself. The attendance and retention rate is close to 90 percent. Virtually all of our participants graduate from high school, 95 to 97 percent enroll in post-secondary education and 70 percent graduate from college within six years of their high school graduation. More than 2,000 HUB alumni have earned post-secondary degrees and become successful, positive members of their communities. Dr. Pasquale Iaderosa, H/C’74, truly believes that, “My affiliation with Horizons-Upward Bound represents the most pivotal time of my life since immigrating to this country at the age of twelve. HUB lived up to its motto. It gave me nothing but a chance!”

The future of Horizons-Upward-Bound and similar programs is always uncertain in these challenging times. Given our strategy and continuing support from a dedicated community, we are confident that we can offer our students more than hope and ensure that are ready to meet the challenges of 21st century global competition. It is toward this ideal that Horizons-Upward Bound is directed and why we look forward to celebrating our 50th anniversary in 2015.

Dr. Darryl L. Taylor
Director, Cranbrook Schools Horizons-Upward Bound

"HUB lived up to its motto. It gave me nothing but a chance!"
– DR. PASQUALE IADEROSA, H/C’74
THE MISSION OF HORIZONS-UPWARD BOUND IS TO PREPARE STUDENTS WITH LIMITED OPPORTUNITY FROM THE DETROIT METROPOLITAN AREA TO ENTER AND SUCCEED IN POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION.

The primary goals of Horizons-Upward Bound are to:

- Provide a comprehensive summer and academic year program that prepares low-income, potential first-generation college students in academic skills that will allow them to succeed in secondary and post-secondary education.
- Explain, demonstrate and teach our students their responsibility as citizens, the importance of character and give them a sense of empowerment that they are connected to a higher community.
- Ensure the long-term financial health and stability of the program and secure the funds necessary to support the priorities and goals of the program.

History
Horizons-Upward Bound is modeled after A Better Chance, a program founded on the premise that low-income students can successfully compete with students from higher-income households if provided with the same preparation and opportunities. With the guidance of faculty from Cranbrook School, the program began in 1965 funded by a grant from the Ford Foundation under the “Horizons” banner. The U.S. Department of Education started a nationwide “Upward Bound” program as part of President Johnson’s Great Society initiatives. When it became apparent that the local “Horizons” and the nationwide “Upward Bound” programs had essentially the same goals, Cranbrook applied for and received a federal Upward Bound grant that resulted in “Horizons-Upward Bound.” Constantly evaluating results, the program strives to be a model of educational excellence in addressing social and economic inequalities, ensuring access to modern technology and guiding its graduates to pave the way to a better society for us all.

HUB is affiliated with the Cranbrook Educational Community, which comprises the Academy of Art, Art Museum, Institute of Science, Schools and other affiliated educational and cultural programs.
Message from the Advisory Board

This year has been a most gratifying one for all the volunteers and staff who have devoted their time and energies to sustain Horizons-Upward Bound at Cranbrook. We are especially grateful for the support of Cranbrook Educational Community president Dom DiMarco and board of trustee chair Bruce Peterson who have led the community in the recognition of the importance of HUB, not only to Cranbrook, but to Southeastern Michigan and the nation at large.

We now begin the planning for the fiftieth anniversary of Horizons-Upward Bound at Cranbrook. The students who have matriculated through the program have gone forth to be leavening to their communities, and are serving future generations by their example.

During the past fifty years over 2,600 boys and girls entered the program and were profoundly changed by their Cranbrook experience.

The coming year is not only a time of celebration and reflection, but also a time to provide support for future generations, who will make a difference in our society.

The Horizons-Upward Bound Advisory Board, with the guidance and collaboration of Cranbrook’s development staff, are committed to find the additional financial means to further sustain the program.

Cranbrook, as a community, has been a haven of fellowship in a world that is sometimes so immersed in self-interest that communal wellbeing sometimes is forgotten.

We should now consider the opportunity to meet the challenge of garnering future support for this unique program. A message will be crafted and sent to Cranbrook’s extended family. The past fifty years have proven the value and relevance of the Horizons-Upward Bound program. This message will endeavor to emphasize the positive change in the lives of our HUB students and also the change that has ultimately enriched our society.

We ask those, who have been loyal supporters, to be our voice in telling the wonderful story of graduates who have gone forth from their Cranbrook days to make a difference in our world. Many of our donors have their own remembrances of HUB’s history of accomplishment.

Like the Cranbrook Community, which has developed over the years in excellence and service, Horizons-Upward Bound continues to improve programs and educational techniques to enhance the opportunities for the students it serves.

The HUB advisory board will continue to steward the financial support of the program and I wish to thank all who have been sustaining our efforts during the past year.

I would be remiss if no mention of the superior leadership of the faculty and staff of this program would not be highlighted in this message. The innovation and devotion to the mission remains one of the examples of excellence which extends throughout the year.

Let us look forward to the coming year with confidence and willingness to sustain a program that exemplifies the Booth’s vision of a more perfect world.

Horizons-Upward Bound (HUB) is a self-supporting educational program that helps high school students with limited opportunity to attain the benefits of higher education. HUB is affiliated with Cranbrook Educational Community, which comprises the Academy of Art, Art Museum, Institute of Science, Schools and other educational and cultural programs. Every effort has been made to carefully review our donor lists and provide proper credit to those who support HUB. If you find an error, however, please contact us at 248 645.3137.

DIRECTOR OF CRANBROOK SCHOOLS  Arlyce M. Seibert
DIRECTOR OF HUB  Dr. Darryl L. Taylor, H/C’70

Gifts listed in this report reflect donations made from July 1, 2013 to June 30, 2014.
